

Hi!

So you're starting to feel that tingly feeling when something feels like a yes. You're very seriously considering joining The Freedom Family with Me (and we're very seriously excited to have you!)

I felt the same way almost 2 years ago when I was looking for a high quality wellness products for my family and my clients that I would totally trust and take myself. But above all the that, it's the community that we have and the support is amazing.

But, first you need a reminder on the enrollment details.

I'd love to walk you through it so you can make the best decision for you.

Here's how it all works:

1. Choose a starter package.

- Core Essential Pack – focuses on the nutritional product line

- Custom Pack – includes whatever products you choose

The packages range from $544 to about $850 depending on which products you choose, plus shipping and tax which will depend on where you live.
